

Mr. Venkateswarulu Chennupalli, M.Sc (Computers)
Assistant Professor

Mr. Venkateswarulu Chennupalli is an Assistant Professor specializing in Computer Science at our institution. He holds an MSc in Computers from Andhra University and has been actively contributing to our faculty since 2019. With a solid academic background and practical experience, Mr. Venkateswarulu brings a wealth of knowledge to the classroom. His dedication to teaching and his commitment to student success create a supportive learning environment for our students.

As an Assistant Professor, Mr. Venkateswarulu continues to make significant contributions to the academic community, preparing students to excel in the field of Computer Science. His passion for education and his expertise make him a valuable member of our faculty.